Rosie's Prince and Rowdy Bourbski were slow to begin. Rosie's Prince - When questioned regarding the greyhounds performance, which stewards deemed below market expectations ($1.60 to $2.60), trainer Steven Bruce White stated that the greyhound has been a slow beginner at its first two starts and he expected the same today. He further stated that the greyhound brushing the running rail approaching the first turn and checking off heels approaching the second turn contributed to the overall performance. Mr White advised his expectations were for the greyhound to make a placing, however did not agree with the opening short price offered and did not support the greyhound. He further added it was his intentions to step the greyhound up in distance believing the greyhound will have a stronger finish and cater towards its slow early speed. A post-race veterinary examination revealed injuries to the left monkey muscle and left back muscle with a 5 day stand down period issued. A post-race sample was taken.
